

Nostrum website - the plan

Quick rundown of what I want the site to be, how it's structured, and the look & feel. Nothing is set in stone - this is so we're on the same page before you start. Read the "open items" at the end, there's stuff still pending on my side.

THE GIST IN 5 LINES

- Who: Nostrum, an olive oil producer. Family/agriculture roots - we don't want to lose that.
- Vibe: dark, premium, exclusive - think luxury car / fashion house. The shop is the exception: bright and white.
- Sells to: normal customers (online shop) and businesses (B2B, but more "let's talk" than bulk-checkout).
- Needs: shop + accounts + client portal + an admin panel for me, in 3 languages (maybe 4).
- Not doing: no chatbot. A WhatsApp button instead.

01 · What we're building

A brand site + online shop for Nostrum. The whole site is dark and premium - deep greens, browns, black, with the lime green from the logo and some gold as accents. The idea is that it feels expensive and a bit exclusive, closer to Bugatti / Rolls-Royce / Aston Martin than to a typical food store. But it keeps an agricultural, "from the land" soul - this is olive oil, not a supercar.

The one exception is the Shop, which flips to light: white, tons of whitespace, product-first, like Louis Vuitton / Balmain. Dark to browse the brand, bright and clean when it's time to buy.

Important on copy: I don't want walls of text nobody reads. Find the exact words, only what the customer needs to know. That's why the design carries most of the weight. The one place we'll actually write more is the History page - real storytelling, text + photos.

A premium, dark, agriculture-rooted olive oil brand - with a

02 · Sitemap

---

Main nav has four items. Login/account and cart sit in the top corner (like the luxury sites). B2B lives as its own section (see notes - still deciding exactly how). WhatsApp button floats on every page.

NOSTRUM.com

- └ Home · dark · the brand moment
- └ Shop · LIGHT/white · product listing → product page → cart → checkout
- └ History · dark · story, text + photos
- └ B2B · small block at the end of the Shop + CTA on Home & across the site
- └ Contact · dark · form + details
- └ Account · login → client portal (orders, invoices, shipping)
- └ Admin · private · me only (orders, customers, content)

Global: language switcher (ES / EN / CA · maybe ZH) · WhatsApp float
· cookie banner · footer

03 · Global stuff (every page)

Languages

ES · EN · CA from day one. Chinese (ZH) only if it's easy to add with the setup you pick - if it's a hassle, skip it, not a priority. Build it multilingual-ready so we can add ZH later without rebuilding.

WhatsApp (not a chatbot)

Floating WhatsApp bubble bottom-right (with the arrow we've talked about before), on every page. That's the "contact us" shortcut. No chatbot - dropped that idea.

Cookies

Small cookie consent banner, same style/approach as the one we did on GetKinetiA. Nothing fancy.

Nav & footer

Minimal top nav (logo center or left, menu + search + account + cart). Footer with sections, socials, legal, language + country. Balmain footer is a good reference.

04 · Page by page

---

Each page described below. Only the Shop and Product pages get a rough layout sketch (they're the light/white part of the site) - everything else is described in words so we don't get confused by fake skeletons.

Home / dark

The brand moment. Big hero, cinematic, dark. Should feel premium the second it loads. A strong CTA into the Shop. This is where the animation ideas live (next section).

Shop / LIGHT - white

This one flips bright. White, lots of whitespace, product photos front and center, like LV / Balmain. Clean grid, minimal chrome. Product list → product page → cart → checkout.

Products (for now): olive oil bottles, mainly 5L, sold as x1 / x2 / x3 packs, plus other sizes. Around ~€35 for the 5L + shipping (price not final). Maybe honey later - not confirmed, so build the catalog flexible enough to add product types.

History / dark

The storytelling page - the one place we go deeper with real text and photos.
Scroll-driven, editorial, cinematic. Content not ready yet - leave rich placeholders so it's easy to drop in real copy + images later.

Contact / dark

B2B - for professionals / small block at end of Shop

This is not a bulk-buy online store. It's more "let's build a proper business relationship - get in touch." Aimed at restaurants, chefs, distributors. Think of the "¿Eres chef profesional?" card - that tone.

Plan: we probably won't have enough content for a full B2B section, so keep it simple - a small block at the end of the Shop, plus a CTA on the Home page and across the site pointing to it (whatever's easiest to design). What it needs: a clear pitch and an easy way to reach out (form + direct commercial email/WhatsApp).

05 · Accounts - login, client portal & admin

Login

Standard login/register. Same kind of setup as GetKinetIA - but please make sure Google sign-in actually works this time. On GK.IA the Google login is broken and I literally can't get into that area. Don't repeat that here. Email + password + working Google option.

Client portal (logged-in customer)

- Order history - past orders with details of each purchase.
- Active orders - current orders with shipping status + order details.
- Invoices - downloadable.
- Shipping / account details - addresses, contact info.
- CTA to buy more - a clear "order again / shop" button inside the portal.
- No wishlist/favorites - we have too few products for it to be useful.

Admin panel (me only)

Same idea as the GetKinetIA admin, but more extensive. On GK.IA I could only see chatbot tickets and edit the blog. Here I mainly need shop operations:

- Orders - see all orders placed, with full details and their data.

- Customers list - a table/list of customers + their data (name, email, etc.). I want this so I can do email marketing later - basically an exportable list of the client information from orders placed.
- Shop management - products, prices, stock, sizes/packs.
- General store admin functions (whatever makes running the shop day-to-day easy).

A customer/emails list plus email marketing = handle GDPR properly (consent checkbox on signup/checkout, privacy policy). Let's make sure that's covered.

06 · Look & feel

Dark everywhere, white in the shop

Brand pages (Home, History, Contact, B2B)

Dark, cinematic, premium. Deep greens/browns/black, gold + lime accents. Big imagery, generous space, refined type. Exclusive & expensive feel.

Proposed palette

I hadn't locked colors, so here's a starting palette that keeps the agriculture feel (dark browns/greens/black) plus the logo lime, gold and white as accents. Tweak as needed - hex values so you have a concrete base.

Ink black
#14160F

Deep olive
#1E2A16

Bark brown
#2C2117

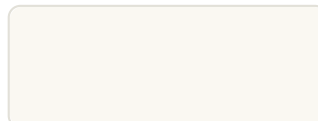

Leaf green
#3B7A3E

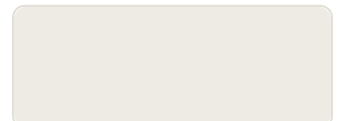

Logo lime
#A6CE3A

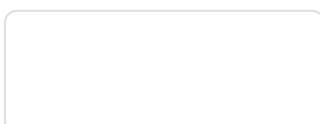

Gold (metallic)
#E6B422

Warm white
#FAF8F2

Off-white text
#EDEBE3

Pure white
#FFFFFF

Rough usage: black/olive/brown = backgrounds on brand pages · lime + gold = accents, CTAs, highlights (use sparingly, they're the jewelry) · warm white = shop background · off-white = text on dark.

Typography

Not locked yet - your call, but the direction: an elegant, slightly editorial display face for headlines (premium, a little character) + a clean, highly readable sans for body/UI. Must support ES/CA accents (and CJK if we do Chinese). Avoid generic/overused fonts. Keep it to 2 families.

Tone of voice

Confident, warm, few words. Premium but not cold - it's a family, from-the-land brand. Say the essential and stop. Let photos and space do the talking (except History, where we tell the real story).

07 · Motion & interaction ideas

I have a few ideas for the home page especially. Treat these as options to explore - I don't need all of them, let's pick what looks best. Rive (rive.app) could be an option for the richer ones.

Light-streaks / car-light trails

Fast golden light streaks across the dark hero - that premium-car energy. Subtle, on load or on scroll.

Spinning olives on scroll

Olives that rotate on their own axis (the body of the olive, not tumbling) as you scroll down the page. Nice signature detail.

Hand-drawn / sketch illustration

A hand-drawn, sketch/esbozo-style drawing element (olives, branch, the logo mark) - gives craft & agriculture warmth against the dark.

"Draining/pouring" CTA + leaf sound

An oil drip/pour ("escurrir") micro-animation on a CTA into the shop. Optional soft ambient sound (leaves) on the site - toggleable.

Keep all of it subtle and performant - premium = restraint. Nothing that hurts load time or feels gimmicky. Respect reduced-motion settings.

08 · Tech - your call

I'm leaving the stack 100% up to you - you know best. One thought: Shopify could make sense given the shop, accounts, orders, invoices and multi-language needs (and it'd cover a lot of the admin out of the box). But if you'd rather do something custom or another setup, go for it - just factor in: multilingual (ES/EN/CA, maybe ZH), working Google login, the admin/customer-export needs, and the custom dark design + animations (Shopify theming can be restrictive, so weigh that).

09 · Open items (on me)

- History content - we have a good story but it's not written/verified yet. Pending. Use placeholders for now.
- Copy in each language - I'll help a lot with the ES / CA (and maybe ZH) wording so it sounds natural and error-free, same as we did on GetKinetIA.
- Professional photos & camera visuals - proper product and brand photography still to come; use placeholders meanwhile.
- Legal - privacy policy, legal notice and cookies text to prepare.
- Prices - ~€35 for 5L is a ballpark, not confirmed. Honey: undecided.
- Contact details - email, phone, address, WhatsApp number, socials: don't have them yet, placeholders for now.
- Colors & fonts - palette above is a proposal; fonts still open. Let's finalize together.
- B2B format - own section vs. blocks within pages: to decide.
- Chinese - only if it's easy in your chosen setup.

Like I said in the email: the external services are on you, for sure. But most of them will be integrated into the web, so once we start working we'll sort them out as we get into the flow.

That's the whole picture. Nothing's final, tell me what's tricky, what you'd do differently, and rough timing/cost. Then we start.
